Creators: Ege Özmen, Enes Keleş, Barış Oralalp, Utku Muratoglu

Players: 4

Target Audience : 14 +

Items to Use :

- 4 Character Tokens
- 55 Cards
- 1 Die
- Map consists of 16 4x4 territory, 4 trade centers and a boss token
- Desktop App: It will show random monster attacks on each round and it will decide how the
- weather will spread on the map

How to play :

- Every player chooses a class/breed to play

- Open the Desktop App and get a map design

- Create the map according to App and then roll the dice

- The one who rolls the highest number, starts the game and continues clockwise

- The one who kills the boss wins the game

- The one who has the higher strength than the other/opponents defense wins the battle same with the monsters

- Players can trade their cards with each other at the trade centers, or can give 2 of their cards to deck and pick a new one

- If a player fights with another player and winner can loot and take two of their opponents cards

- The player who have died can keep the highest value card

-The one who died can start from the beginning with the highest valued card he had before he died

- Number of red dots on the territories indicate the probability of monster arrival.

Turn Overview:

- Move one tile and pick a card, if it is a monster fight with it,otherwise keep it

Background Story:

Year 2153 , It was 30 years ago first civil war between organics and mechanics emerged in history. Technology became so advanced in 22th Century that some people began to use cybernetic implants to made them more stronger or more advantageous than regular human beings. On the other hand, robot population started an uprising just before the civil war. Although , the cybernetic implants designed to humans better, they are not always succeeded and this failure created a new kind of creature, there are now a group of people who suffered severe consequences of this implants, makes them look like monstrous mutants .All these four type of members of society separated from each other after the civil war. Yet, they were not knew that they need to cross path soon.

Setting:

In the Year of 2153 , an alien like creature attacked the heart of the Palm City and its army spread all parts of the city. In the first moments of this invasion you have a chance to choose 4 different type of class to kill the alien and save the city;

Classes/Breeds:

Robot : they began to live in Andromeda Hills where the weather is almost every time snowy and cold which makes them more powerful against organic lives and they use this as an advantage against the monster that started to invade Palm City

Cyborg: they are certainly not humans and certainly not robots also, they do not live in the cities anymore after the civil war and they do not prefer to live with robots in those cold weather. They are located in Calypso Valley , a place in the 21th century was the location for every tech company was located. They have enough supplies for themselves in case of repairing and hot , coastal weather enable them to defend themselves against organic looters and attacks.

Mutant: they are excluded from every possible society ,therefore, they found themselves in Ladercom Slums where they can resist acid rains and mud. They are completely on their own, yet their uncontrollable strength and an area which they use for their advantage makes the territory most challenging place both for the monsters and other classes

Humans: After get rid of from all freaks ,humans created an utopia city for their own in the Palm City , where they call Paradise City. Humans created an atmosphere device where they keep the weather on ideal temperature for humans only . However, city is only protected by walls and by having artistic architecture they had the most damage from the invasion.

Weather	Strong (+5 str)	Weak(-5 str)
Snowy	Robot	Organic
Rainy(Acid)	Organic	Mechanic
Foggy		All
Sunny	Mechanic	Organic

For further information, please check the wikia file which comes along with the desktop app.